

CONGRESSMEN WANT TO COME WITH NAVY HEAD

story if a congressional party, similar to that which visited Hawaii and the Philippines with former President Taft, when he was secretary of war, could be invited here at the same time that Secretary of the Navy Daniels makes his inspection of Pearl Harbor next April.

"High officials of the navy are very anxious that Secretary Daniels see for himself conditions at Pearl Harbor," continued Dillingham. "It is quite certain that he will come here after the opening of the Panama-Pacific exposition, and that would be a fine time for the congressional party to make his visit. I am convinced that this would mean much to Hawaii."

Mr. Dillingham also stated that the exposition officials were counting on a Hawaiian polo team to take part in the big tournament, and that they would be bitterly disappointed if no team from here competed. There seems little prospect of an All-Hawaii team this next season, however, as Dillingham himself will be unable to leave his business interests here to make the trip, and the other members of the team don't care to go without him.

"I saw both international polo matches," said Dillingham, and the most exciting moment to me was when Waterberry made the goal off Carry-the-News that put America momentarily ahead."

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Friends and students of the Korean boarding school are invited to attend an entertainment which will be given in the Korean compound, Punchbowl street, at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

With a view to raising funds to aid the homeless children in Europe, the pupils at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Kaimuki, are holding a fair at the school this afternoon. Many useful articles are on sale, and the children are hoping that everything will be sold in order that the fund which they wish to raise will be a substantial one.

A meeting of the members of the Promotion Committee will be held in the rooms of the committee, Bishop street, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The members of the Outdoor Committee of the Promotion Committee will be present to discuss the best methods of developing the scope and activities of the former organization. The Outdoor Committee is composed of L. A. Thurston, A. J. Ford, H. L. Strange, H. Gooding Field and G. H. Tuttle.

After several months' illness Mrs. Rose K. Cox, wife of Supervisor Andrew B. Cox, died late yesterday afternoon at her niece's home in Peterson lane. She was the youngest daughter of the late J. Amara and was 45 years old. Those surviving her besides the husband are two sisters, Mrs. Charles M. Kallheui of Wahiawa and Mrs. B. A. Kopa of Kohala, Hawaii. The funeral was held today at Wahiawa and burial was given in the family plot.

Charles S. Crane was elected president of the Kaimuki Improvement Club at a meeting of the members of that organization in the Liliuokalani school last night. Other officers chosen were Walter H. Bromley, vice president; Ed. Towse, secretary; George B. Henderson, treasurer; J. H. Hedges, assistant secretary; George A. Berndt and J. T. Boyd, directors. The officers will be installed at a meeting of the club which has been called for the third Thursday in January.

Fifteen youngsters ranging in age from 7 to 15 years will be taken to the Boys' Reform School at Wahiawa today or tomorrow by Probation Officer John C. Anderson. Most of the lads were brought before Juvenile Judge W. L. Whitner for systematic thefts of large quantities of metal from numerous firms about the city. The bulk of the booty was purchased from them by Mota, a caretaker at C. H. Brown's scrapiron yard. Many of the youths are regarded now as incorrigible and will be kept at the reformatory until they have attained majority.

SUGAR TO RISE, IS PREDICTION OF THE EXPERTS

quite another reason, viz. the securing of the handsome profits now visible over the cost of production. Upon which of these two conditions is most powerful in the minds of planters, seems to rest the market value of the Cuba crop from now till May next. We incline to think that the last of these propositions may influence prices downward to some moderate extent for awhile, and, if so, that operators will have the opportunity again of trading on a rising market, as well as will refiners, for the immediate future.

Such war news as there is this week reaches us in special correspondence.

From Magdeburg, Germany, we learn that the weight of roots in Germany is increasing owing to favorable weather. The yields also are better than in the last campaign, "but nobody knows how many roots are actually at hand and how many will be fed to cattle."

It is reported that the German government has now arranged the traffic in sugar, 40 per cent being reserved for the inland consumption and the remaining 60 per cent will be locked up for larger requirements and for partial exports to neutral countries, but only with government permission. In Austria the crop progresses fairly, but in Galicia no production is possible.

In Belgium the German government allows sugar making in territories occupied by German troops and, perhaps, 100,000 tons may be produced.

In northern France no production whatever seems possible. Between the Marne and Belgium frontier, where the bulk of the factories are located, the war is raging at present. Factories and root-fields are undoubtedly being destroyed on a large scale.

In Poland sugar making is a hard thing, too, this country being at one time occupied by German and Austrian troops, and soon again by the Russians. The roads are impassable owing to excessive rains.

From this information from Magdeburg we draw conclusions that non-producing countries must rely upon cane sugar supplies entirely, unless next February it may develop that Russia will have a surplus of her beet crop for exportation. Provided prices are high enough to cover cost of production, which cost considerably exceeds the cost in either Germany or Cuba even in normal times, and war makes high costs necessary.

Even should the German government open the way for exports to the United States we very much doubt if short supplies of cane sugar, and resultant high prices for sugar, will make our market sufficiently high to warrant importation of such on the basis required for deliveries and payment abroad and attendant risks of the voyage, so we eliminate from our market expectations the importations of any European beet sugar so long as the war may last.

In the United States we are gradually emerging from the influence of the war depression, and business is taking on a noticeable improvement in many directions.

Morning on CHANGE

Business was again light on the board today, accompanied by a comparatively heavy recess list. Prices for the most part show firmness. Olan between boards sold down 1-8 point for 25 shares, but regained yesterday's closing figure of 51-8 for 20 and 75 shares. Pioneer was steady at 23-1-2 for 10 and 5 shares. Oahu gained 1-2 point in a sale of 10 shares at 19-1-4. Hawaiian Sugar sold down one point to 22 for 15 shares. McGrade was steady at 51-4 for a total of 520 shares in two lots of 200, two of 100 and one of 20 shares each reported and 30 and 50 on the board. Brewery was the only other stock sold at the session, 5 shares selling 3-4 point down to 14-1-4. Bond sales reported were $1000 Gas five unchanged at 99, and $3000 and $1000 Olan sixes down 10 points to 70.

Henry M. Frank, a retired seaman living in New York, committed suicide by inhaling gas, first sending an undertaker a letter instructing him to cremate his body.

John Tobin and Joseph Battos, both of Manhattan, were arrested after the shooting of Harry Chester of The Bronx, who identified Tobin as the man who shot him.

A meeting of the members of Honolulu Lodge 616, B. P. O. E., will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Elks' hall, King street.

When you are down town with the children don't fail to take them around to the New York shoe store on Nuuanu, below Hotel street, to see the Christmas tree and window decorations. Then go inside and see the attractive footware.

STAR-BULLETIN HAWAII-PANAMA EDITION TODAY

Representatives of the Star-Bulletin have scoured the territory from the southeast end of the island of Hawaii to the west end of Nihoa for facts and figures. Nothing in the line of agricultural or industrial pursuits has escaped their attention or the lenses of their cameras. Hundreds of pictures have been taken here as many different parts of the territory and are incorporated in the Hawaii-Panama edition. The statistics recorded therein were obtained from the fountain head—from sources that are accurate and dependable.

In the compiling of the Hawaii-Panama edition many busy hands were employed. In fact, the work was so large that more time was consumed in its creation than was figured on and at times the big presses of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin were running day and night on the work. The half tones appearing in the edition are the finest that skill and apparatus can produce.

Scattered through the edition are eight pages of four-color work. These color pages need no literary embellishment. They are new achievements in coloring and in detail.

Little has escaped the attention of those who gathered the facts and figures for this big work, and the edition makes a most complete resume of Hawaii—the Paradise of the Pacific—and is a most interesting edition to send to "those back home."

It is particularly timely as a holiday gift.

The supplement will be sold over the counter and at all news stands for 50 cents a copy. Postage, 15 cents per copy.

Taking as evidence two and one-half times of opium and several complete sets of opium-smoking paraphernalia, the United States marshal and his deputy, Albert Harris, last night arrested Charles Leong at Wahiawa and closed up the store and laundry which it is believed was run as a "blind" by Cheong.
